

The book was found

Canary In The Courtroom: How Pesticide Poisoning Changed A Woman's Life And Forced Her Into Civil Action

Synopsis

Canary in the Courtroom is the compelling true story of a woman poisoned in her own home by a pesticide and her resultant civil action against the pesticide company that applied it. It raises questions and encourages awareness about the toxins in our environment. Christine Rankine, then a 54-year-old teacher, was living a normal, busy life when she hired Vermini Termite and Pesticide Company to kill termites in her home. Vermini assured her that the chemical applied was a safe and natural product. After the pesticide application, Christine became very ill, with a burning sensation in her throat and lungs, as well as the inability to breath normally. This courtroom drama and the story that parallels it provide insight into what can happen to an individual after becoming chemically injured. In this powerful biography, author Jessie MacLeod examines the influence of the chemical industry and illustrates how labels and manufacturers' claims are often deceptive. She exposes legal loopholes that allow toxic ingredients in commonly used products and discloses weakness in federal laws and regulations that are meant to protect the consumer. Ms. MacLeod skillfully weaves credible research, colorful characters, and entertaining courtroom drama into this riveting story. What happened to Christine Rankine could happen to anyone. Reading her story will enlighten you and perhaps give you the knowledge necessary to save you or a family member from possible chemical injury. This book is a must-read for anyone concerned about product safety and for anyone in the mood for a good courtroom drama.

Book Information

Paperback: 322 pages

Publisher: iUniverse, Inc. (April 4, 2006)

Language: English

ISBN-10: 0595380522

ISBN-13: 978-0595380527

Product Dimensions: 6 x 0.8 x 9 inches

Shipping Weight: 1.1 pounds (View shipping rates and policies)

Average Customer Review: 5.0 out of 5 stars See all reviews (4 customer reviews)

Best Sellers Rank: #2,347,235 in Books (See Top 100 in Books) #73 in Books > Engineering & Transportation > Engineering > Civil & Environmental > Environmental > Insecticides & Pesticides #2209 in Books > Politics & Social Sciences > Politics & Government > Public Affairs & Policy > Environmental Policy #2837 in Books > Law > Legal History

Customer Reviews

"A grim specter has crept upon us almost unnoticed, and this imagined tragedy may easily become a stark reality we all shall know." Jessie MacLeod's story is a story I know all too well. While a different path took me to where she is, our lives were turned upside down and inside out. I had a difficult time putting down the book. I know what chemicals can do based on my own experience but learned even more because of Ms. MacLeod's research into her exposure. I hope this book will alert the public to what is being pushed on the unsuspecting individual and touted as "safe". I never questioned what I was putting in or on my body until it became impossible for me to function with so many products that were once used in my every day life. I thank Ms. MacLeod for telling this story and making us aware of what we are doing to ourselves. She fought a tough battle and refused to give up.

Canary in the Courtroom is a book that is hard to put down. Ms. MacLeod has separated fact from fiction and exposed holes in several programs designed to protect the public from harmful chemicals. The book is a treatise on how individuals are led to believe in the safety of chemicals and how one person fought for the truth to be told. For the sake of future generations health, let's hope we can learn through Ms. MacLeod's ordeal! Rachel Carson would be deeply distressed to think pesticide poisoning is continuing on the human level.

This book has a few problems with repetition in the beginning as the author justifies writing an autobiography in third person. Once you get into the courtroom scenes, though, you are hooked. This story is all the more riveting because it is true. This well-written book will make you cheer for "the little guy" (or gal in this case) and then make you run to your cupboards to start reading labels. Buy it. Read it. You won't regret it.

This book is one that you know you should read, but are a little afraid of the awareness you might gain from it. After all, life can be little more complicated when we actually have knowledge about the unseen dangers in our every day life. Jessie MacLeod makes it easy, she did the research and then presents her well written experiences in a way that keeps you reading to the end. What you get is not only new knowledge, but hope. This is one of those books that gives you courage to live up to your values. This author sure has!

Download to continue reading...

Canary in the Courtroom: How Pesticide Poisoning Changed a Woman's Life and Forced Her into Civil Action
Akiane: Her Life, Her Art, Her Poetry: Her Life, Her Art, Her Poetry
Poisoning and Drug

Overdose, Sixth Edition (Poisoning & Drug Overdose) Canarios de color/ Canary with colors: El Canario Agata/ the Agata Canary (Pajaros) (Spanish Edition) DDT and the American Century: Global Health, Environmental Politics, and the Pesticide That Changed the World (The Luther H. Hodges Jr. and Luther H. ... Entrepreneurship, and Public Policy) DDT and the American Century: Global Health, Environmental Politics, and the Pesticide That Changed the World (The Luther H. Hodges Jr. and Luther H. Hodges ... Entrepreneurship, and Public Policy) Akiane: Her Life, Her Art, Her Poetry Opium War, 1840-1842: Barbarians in the Celestial Empire in the Early Part of the Nineteenth Century and the War by Which They Forced Her Gates Seizing Her Lands: Medieval Historical Forceful Men (Forced Submission Book 5) How To Stop Poisoning Yourself The Pure & Natural Way: A Guide To Avoiding Processed, Commercialized, Irradiated & Genetically Engineered Food and Products The Poisoning of an American High School January First: A Child's Descent into Madness and Her Father's Struggle to Save Her Trafficked: The Terrifying True Story of a British Girl Forced into the Sex Trade Successful Civil Litigation: How to Win Your Case Before You Enter the Courtroom Positive Parenting in Action: The How-To Guide for Putting Positive Parenting Principles into Action in Early Childhood Fifty Ships That Changed the Course of History: A Nautical History of the World (Fifty Things That Changed the Course of History) The Miner's Canary: Enlisting Race, Resisting Power, Transforming Democracy The Miner's Canary: Enlisting Race, Resisting Power, Transforming Democracy (The Nathan I. Huggins Lectures) Hitler's Savage Canary: A History of the Danish Resistance in World War II The Emperor of China, The Mute Canary & The Executioner of Peru

Dmca